NEWS AND GOSSIP OF SCREEN AND STAGE

Splendid Programs of Pictures and Musical Comedies at Local Theaters.

Three packed houses greeted the initial performances of Al Flatcos' Musical Comedy Company now playing a week's engagement at the Odeon theater. Manager Murray, of the Odeon, can conscientiously boast of playing one of the best musical comedies so far this season.

Mr. Flatco has spared neither time nor money in his efforts to produce "The Million Dollar Girl" Friday and Saturday.

The photoplay offering today is "East Lynne" in three acts.

Director Donald McDonald of the Mustang brand, is completing a two-reel western feature called "Breezy Bill—Outcast" by Edward A. Kauffman. Jack Richardson, Helene Rosson and William Stowell will have the leads.

drama, "The Deserter," with Alice Hollister and Anna Nelson in the leads, and a clever Biograph comedy, "His Dear Old Girl."

Scenario has been prepared for a five-reel Selig Reel play adapted from the Charles Major novel, "Sweet Elvium." This will be staged by Director Colin Campbell in the near future, the actual work being taken up as soon as Mr. Campbell completes his present subject.

Ann Murdock, raised to stardom last season on the dramatic stage by Charles Frohman, and now a Metro star, is seen for the first time as a screen star under the auspices of the Metro Picture Corporation, in a production by the Columbia Columbia Pictures Corporation, entitled "A Royal Family." This play was a New York success originally staged by Charles Frohman at the Lyceum theater. It is presented as a photoplay at the Robinson Grand today with Miss Murdock in the role of the little Princess of Arcadia, who believes in war and fighting men because she has been brought up with all the desires and ambitions that would naturally be instilled into a boy or royal blood, is explained when it is said that the queen, her mother, died when she was an infant and that she has had no woman to direct her and no girls with whom to play.

Tomorrow, the popular and beautiful star, Hazel Dawn, will be seen in the stirring film adaptation of Ronald MacDonald's thrilling drama, "Clarissa."

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne appear on the Bijou screen today in "Blood Will Tell," a three-act, Essanay colonial society drama. Miss Nell Craig and Warda Howard are seen in "The Whirlpool," a three-act emotional drama that is of special interest, as Miss Craig appears to great advantage. The story deals with the wife of an attorney pearance on the Bijou screen for a long time, and the play she is presented in is a fine three-act emotional drama that just suits her dramatic style. Klaw and Erlanger will present "The Wife of Henry Villard," a two-act drama of unusually high order, making the program more than interesting. A comedy will be shown to finish the bill.

Orpheum. With a view to obtaining these Bert Levy's Republic theater in Los Angeles was secured for a setting. A great number of studio lights were taken to the theater, and John Emerson rehearsed the act the players were going to enact on the stage. When all was in readiness the curtain was raised, the light turned on, and the audience sat up with astonishment.

Director W. Christy Cabanne then stepped to the front of the stage and explained to the members of the audience that they were about to become motion picture actors. He asked their aid in the making of a good scene and proceeded to direct the whole 1,400 of them just as he would his own studio players.

Tomorrow, the Universal Broadway feature, "A Little Brother of the Rich," featuring Hobart Bosworth, will be the special offering.

A. G. Delamater is to produce a musical piece called "Too Near Paris." The leading role, that of a stranded musician, will be acted by John W. Ransom, the original Hans of the "Prince of Pilsen."

The season of magic in Clarksburg will be at the Robinson Grand, Thursday night, September 23, at 9 o'clock, when LeRoy, Talma and Bosco and a company of Belgian magicians come on their round the world tour. It will be the third engagement in this city of the triple alliance of magicians who head the big magic illusion show.

Much is promised by the management of the organization. The production is declared to be most sumptuous. It has the distinct foreign effect, all the scenery, proper-a musical repertoire that compares favorably with the larger productions commanding $2 prices. He is ably assisted in all three of his complete musical comedies by the beautiful and clever Dede Fitzpatrick, Miss Phinello and the popular Getta Holland. The chorus is an unusual assortment of pretty singers and dancers, and the gorgeous costumes only tend to bring out the merits of a regular one hundred per cent musical repertoire. The plays for the week are "Wedded Bliss," Monday and Tuesday; "Japland," Wednesday and Thursday; and was presented by De Wolf's Follies" at the Palace theater this afternoon before one of the largest audiences of the season. It is called "The Hotel Mix-up."

The show goes with a snap and vim that is most refreshing, and frequent encores almost completely stop it at times. Indeed, De Wolf and Cody's fascinating dancing during the course of the show results in so many encores that the clever pair are compelled to beg the audience to desist.

The company makes an instantaneous bit with its special scenery and lighting effects, and when the chorus makes its appearance with its pretty costumes, the applause is deafening. The chorus is large in number and very pretty, and exceedingly well costumed with good voices and ability to dance.

The cast is a large one, including fifteen talented persons. Olive May Cody, Martin Lee, Henry Tyler, Frank Young, Nora Huster and De Wolf are the principals.

Some very good pictures are shown including a three-part Kalem whose duty keeps him away from home, leaving his wife to find amusement, and whose meeting with an artist leads to a dangerous friendship with this unscrupulous man. A nice little comedy closes the bill.

"The Phantom Happiness," a three-act Lubin with Ormi Hawley, Earle Metcalfe and other artists, will top Wednesday's bill at the Bijou. This is Miss Hawley's first appearance on the Bijou screen for a long time, and the play she is presented in is a fine three-act emotional drama that just suits her dramatic style. Klaw and Erlanger will present "The Wife of Henry Villard," a two-act drama of unusually high order, making the program more than interesting. A comedy will be shown to finish the bill.

DODGE BROTHERS

You can feel sure that the car is exactly as good as it looks if you will remember the wide experience which Dodge Brothers have had in motor car construction.

Surely it is not assuming too much, for example, to say that Dodge Brothers should be skilled in axle construction, as they have manufactured as many as 225,000 rear axles per year.

The wheel base is 110 inches. The price of the car complete is $785 f. o. b. Detroit.
